

St. Louis VA Health Care Social Work Practicum

VA conducts the largest program of education and training for health care professionals. Each year nearly 100,000 interns, residents and students from approximately 1,000 educational institutions receive clinical training at VA facilities.

VA Social Work Departments offer students advanced training in a comprehensive health care system, providing exposure to a broader range of patient populations, integrated practice settings and specialized treatment programs than would be available from a single agency.
